SPEAKER SAYS RUSSIA HOLDS 15 MILLIONS "IN SLAVERY"

Apollon Trembow, 46, native of the Ukraine, addressed the Exchange Club Tuesday evening in the Plaza restaurant on "Why We Should Fight Against Communism." His talk, illustrated by many photographs of "bodies of innocent people slaughtered for no reason at all" and newspaper clippings, was warmly received. Trembow, his wife and four children came to the United States in 1949 through arrangements made by the I. Z. Musselman Co. He has resided in the Orrtanna area ever since arriving here. Trembow is a male nurse at the Mont Alto Sanatorium. He also serves as national vice president of the Ukrainian American Congress which numbers over one million members in the United States. He is the author of the book, "Black Deeds of the Kremlin," published in 1935 by Dobrus, of which he is president. Dobrus, he explained, "is an anti-communist organization." He introduced his 73-year-old father, Pawlo Trembow, who had come here 11 months ago with his wife. Both testified before a congressional committee on Communist aggression in 1954. The father testified in Munich, Germany, the son in New York City.

Reds Seized Country
The speaker told of how his country, was "swallowed up by Russia in 1921." His home town of Vinnitsa became a graveyard when the Russians killed over 9,000. He told of finding his wife's father here after he had been missing for a number of years. He helped with the task of identifying the bodies.
He calls the USSR the world's largest concentration camp with over fifteen million farmers in slavery. "The American tourists in Russia are shown the fine architecture designed by Italians, the churches in the Kremlin, but are never shown these concentra-

SYRIAN AUTHOR SAYS GOD HAS BLESSED U. S.

Fairfield Joint High School graduates and those who attended commencement exercises Tuesday night in the school auditorium heard Salon Rizk say that Americans are privileged in that here they can associate with all nationalities and races. "America," he said, "is far more than just another colossal country, it is a proving ground, a pattern for the world to be."

Speaking on "America Is More Than a Country," he recounted some of his own experiences from the time he came, as a boy, from his native Syria to the U. S.

"The first sight of New York crushed me," he said. "I thought that Americans must be giants to have built such a large city." His story is told in his autobiography, "A Syrian Yankee," a copy of which he presented to the school library.

Enviied Americans
Comparing the Old World with the New, he pointed to the numerous contrasts. "I always envied every American when I was on the outside looking in. America to me is the land of freedom, of good will. God has poured out His blessings on America."
"Some nations still do not honor ballots. Here they count ballots instead of bullets."

To the graduates he emphasized, "In America anything is possible."
Rizk recalled how he was taught in school that Christopher Columbus discovered America. Since seeing it, he said, "I wonder how could he have missed it."

She, Shis, Shim
From his own experience of getting to know his adopted country, he said language was the greatest difficulty. When he learned the pronouns, he said, he couldn't understand why, if he

May Segregate Schools By Sex

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—County school boards in Florida now have authority to segregate pupils by sex to deal with integration problems, when they come.

The bill passed by the Florida Legislature was signed into law Tuesday by Gov. Leroy Collins without comment.

The sex segregation plan is merely a permissive law, and there are no immediate plans for using it anywhere in Florida.

It was the second segregation bill to become law during the current legislative session. Collins earlier approved a bill to allow groups of citizens to set up private schools.

FIRST OFFSET YEARBOOK BY TIMES PLANT

The Times and News Publishing Company Tuesday delivered the first yearbook it has ever printed by the offset process.

The 170-page book is the "1959 Owl," a publication of Westminster, Md., High School, and contains pictures of the various classes, the graduates, pictures of activities at the school and information concerning the various students. It was lithographed using 6, 8 and 10 point Caledonia body type with Tempo Black Extended head type. Artwork was by Leonard Richard Gikins, Daldstown, and the cover was made by The Albrecht Co., Baltimore.

One of the most attractive yearbooks ever printed by The Times and News Publishing Co. here, it is the first to be printed on the big new offset machine recently secured by The Times from Germany and placed in a new addition to The Times building on Carlisle St.

Other Offset Work
All prior yearbooks published locally were by the letter press process.

The new offset department of The Times has been used so far mostly for the printing of sales folders, booklets, labels, magazines and other printed material in which color has been predominant.

Delivered today by The Times and News Publishing Co. were 11 books written by men and women seeking Doctor of Philosophy degrees at Catholic University, Washington, D. C. During the year the local plant has published 26 such books, running approximately 13,000 copies. Some of the books were printed by letter press, some by the offset method. The offset system was used principally for the scientific thesis type book to permit reproduction of entire pages of mathematical equations directly from the original manuscript.

NEW PLAN FOR TOWN COUNCIL ON LANDFILLS

Gettysburg borough council is expected to receive at its meeting Monday a report on efforts to set up a sanitary landfill for disposal of the area's garbage and trash by establishing an authority in conjunction with nearby townships.

Members of the committee of borough council headed by Harold Ecker met Monday evening at the engine house with representatives from several nearby townships to discuss the possibility of establishing a joint authority which would purchase land, set up and operate a landfill.

A township official who attended the meeting said Attorney Eugene V. Bulleit told the group that since there is no prior experience to go by, an arbitrary figure would be set up for the original operation of landfill as the price to be paid by those using the facility. As experience dictated, the cost would be raised or lowered so that it would provide sufficient funds for amortization and operation and no more. The group was told that the operation should show no profits but instead should give the public the best service possible at the lowest cost.

Second Meeting

Ecker said today that the meeting of the council committee was the second held by the group with representatives from nearby townships. A similar meeting was held two weeks ago at which state Health Department officials spoke. The local dump, which has served Gettysburg and surrounding areas for a number of years, has been ordered closed by the state Department of Health, thus leading to efforts to secure a new method of disposal of wastes. Open dumps are no longer allowed by the state.

Oxford Twp. Supervisor Norval Beaver and Robert Miller, New Oxford R. D., operator of a sanitary landfill now serving 1,100 customers in the county, were refused admittance to the special committee session at the engine house Monday evening, Miller said. He recently received his state certificate for his landfill operation.

TO MEET WITH ARCHITECTS

Meetings with architects in connection with the jail and the proposed new county home were scheduled by the Adams County Commissioners at their session this morning at the court house.

This afternoon Robert Itri of the Alfred Hamme architectural firm of York will join the commissioners for an additional survey of the jail in an attempt to make it escape proof.

Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock the commissioners, members of the advisory committee and architects will meet at the county home to go over "what we hope are the final plans" for the county home, the commissioners said.

Completion of the grading of an embankment at the northwest corner of the intersection of Harrisburg St. and Broadway was reported. The bank, on county home land, had obstructed the view of children crossing the street at the intersection.

Approval was given to appropriation of $1,139.61 in county aid to Germany Twp.

The Methodist Church children of Fountaindale will place flowers on the graves. The Emmitsburg American Legion color guard and firing squad and Post 172 Amvets of Fairfield will participate in the program, Fred Naugle, Fairfield R. 1, has announced.

TOP COMMY ISSUES NEW PEACE THREAT

By JOHN SCALI
WASHINGTON (AP) — Tough talk by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Albania appeared certain today to force a quick Western strategy review of prospects for easing the Geneva conference deadlock on Germany's future.

Such a Western huddle was reported likely after the Western Big Three foreign ministers and West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer attend John Foster Dulles' funeral this afternoon.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, accompanied by British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville was to arrive this morning by Air Force plane from Geneva.

Reports To President
Herter arranged to report to President Eisenhower on futile efforts at Geneva thus far to persuade the Soviets to offer enough concessions to provide a compromise settlement of the Berlin and German problems.

In an off-the-cuff speech in Albania where he is now visiting, Khrushchev lashed out anew at Western policies and threatened to sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany.

Khrushchev reinforced this oft-repeated threat by warning that the Soviets will set up missile bases in Albania if American missiles are stationed in Italy and Greece.

Usual Red Pressure
It marked the third time in three weeks that the Soviet leader has publicly sought to pressure the West into agreeing to Soviet demands under the threat of taking single-handed action if the Allies refuse.

Khrushchev's remarks clearly irritated top American officials. They came only one day after the State Department bluntly advised him in effect to shut up unless he wanted to ruin prospects that friendly talks at Geneva could lessen Berlin tensions.

The new Khrushchev threats were expected to bolster Adenauer's appeals to the Western Big Three to adopt an equally tough line.

County UNICEF Cited As "Model"

The Adams County organization for UNICEF is being used by the Greater Philadelphia UNICEF committee as a model for other units because of the success of projects conducted in the last two years by the local group which is headed by Dr. Jacob Heikinen of Gettysburg.

That information was brought home from the regular meeting of the board of the Greater Philadelphia unit by county representatives who attended the meeting and luncheon at the Philadelphia YWCA on Monday. The local representatives were Mrs. C. W. Hershey, York Springs; her daughter, Mrs. William Barriaga, Gettysburg; and the latter's daughter, Barbara.

Speaker for the meeting Monday was Mrs. Guido Pantalone, a member of the national board for UNICEF. The board chairman, Mrs. Robert T. Addis, presided at the meeting at which Miss Gertrude Ely, the retiring board chairman, was specially honored. Miss Ely has been chairman of the Greater Philadelphia UNICEF unit since its inception about six years ago. In that time its annual projects have increased UNICEF contributions from $1,700 to $32,000 in 1958 in this area.

Jay E. McGlaughlin Heads Vets' Unit

These former infantrymen were credited with being the first Allied soldiers to cross the Danube River. Shortly after victory in Europe, President Truman ordered the award of the Bronze Star Medal to all combat infantrymen of the division for meritorious achievement against the enemy.

"On the average, a child with cerebral palsy is born every 53 minutes," Mrs. Forney explained, and added that the campaign theme dramatized the extent of the need for care for such children.

RAUL CASTRO SAFE IN CRASH

HAVANA (AP) — Raul Castro, prime minister Fidel Castro's flamboyant younger brother, was found safe today after walking away from a plane crash in the swamps of south central Cuba.

Raul and his crew of three airmen were reported in good spirits. They crashed Tuesday during an aerial search mission.

The leftward-leaning Raul, commander-in-chief of Cuba's armed forces and heir-designate to succeed Fidel, plunked down in a swampy marsh in the Ensenada de la broa area south of Cienaga Zapata.

The four abandoned their plane and headed for the coast along the bank of the Hatiguanico River. Peasants helped guide them out of the swamps.

A helicopter spotted Raul and his companions this morning. It radioed for help and the men were picked up by four Navy launches at the mouth of the river.

Raul took off from Havana Tuesday in the light plane to search for the crashed helicopter of air force commander Maj. Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz.

Carpenter Buys 65 Jersey Acres

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — President Bob Carpenter of the Philadelphia Phillies today announced purchase of 65 acres in Delaware Township, N. J. He said the land would be available for a sports stadium, but that he purchased it primarily as a personal investment.

Carpenter said in a statement that he had "purchased the land at the suggestion of my financial advisors to hold for future commercial or industrial development."

"If the Camden County stadium issue is revised, this land, while not purchased as a stadium site, will be made available for such use. However, the site will not be held indefinitely for that purpose since there are a number of other tracts equally suitable for a stadium."

The purchase ended months of speculation that the National League baseball club owner would buy the land owned by Earl Lipincott of Haddonfield, N. J.

Godfrey Calls For More Cancer Studies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arthur Godfrey, who recently underwent surgery for lung cancer, asked today for a stepped-up national program of cancer research.

Godfrey made his plea in a letter to Sen. Lister Hill (D-Ala.), chairman of a Senate Appropriations subcommittee.

"We should fight against communism because it is a system against people—but for the communist leaders!"

No Freedom
"All newspapers are owned by the government. There are no private newspapers. All meetings are organized by the government. One schoolmate of mine was given three years in jail for hitting a portrait of Karl Marx, the founder of Communism. The student was reported to the secret service which has an office in every school with a record of each student."

The speaker's father, who can not speak English, answered questions through his son acting as an interpreter. He said he marveled at the large farms and noted he has not seen a man or woman without shoes here with the exception of children who usually run barefoot in the summer months. In his country, he explained, the majority of people go through life without shoes.

The speakers were introduced by treasurer Alexis Chritzman, Philip Neth, president, presided.

Sound Taps

on the quarter-hour drive to the Memorial Gate at Arlington National Cemetery.

On Edge Of Hill

There, amid flourishes and ruffles from a military band, Dulles' casket was to be moved from the hearse to a horse-drawn caisson, for the slow procession through the cemetery to the grave.

The grave site for Dulles, an Army major in World War I, was at the edge of a hill sloping down toward the Potomac River. It and his simple marble tombstone were much the same as those accorded thousands of other military dead buried in the National Cemetery.

Final rites at graveside — a committal service and benediction — were to be watched by the family, the President and Vice President Nixon and their parties from chairs placed under a canopy.

Salute And Taps
Then the military would present arms, fire a full 19-gun salute and three volleys of rifle fire, and sound taps.

Praises for Dulles continued to flow to the capital as they have ever since he entered Walter Reed Army Hospital with the cancer that was to take his life.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev told a meeting in Tirana, the capital of Communist Albania, that Dulles was an "outstanding politician" who in the last months of his life displayed a "more sober understanding of the international situation."

Boy Is Rescued From Bear At Zoo

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—A 3-year-old boy was rescued from the jaws of a 250-pound bear at the City Zoo Tuesday by a teenager who jammed a glowing cigarette against the beast's nose.

The animal released its grip on the hand of Russell VanDam.

The boy had crawled under a guard rail and thrust his hand through a two-inch mesh screen into the bear's cage.

Thomas Cole, 19, heard the boy's mother, Mrs. Melvin J. VanDam, scream. He rushed to the cage and found her trying to pull her son's hand free. Cole reached through the screen and burned the bear's tender nose.

Russell was treated at a hospital. His condition was reported good today.

OUR FRIEND—THE MIND

We take our hands and lift some heavy piece and boast inwardly of our strength. We run in the open and come to our homes in ruddy readiness for renewed romp or reading.

But we don't give credit to the one mighty power which makes all enjoyment and all pleasure possible—the mind.

Solomon once said that a man carried the world around in his heart. And yet the longest lived man could not possibly hope to discover but a small part of this world of his.

But the mind steps in to interpret and to explain—in to enlarge and to make fine and real—every impression that the beauties of outward nature creates.

Your mind is your very best friend. It is a storehouse of endless dimensions. Within its comparatively small area the outlines of centuries may be placed upon its walls. And you may gather wealth for its coffers at no price at all—excepting effort.

You may walk into the greatest art gallery in the world and go back to your home with more of its beauty than the man whose grand wealth purchased the paintings and gave them into its permanent possession.

And, through your mind, you are joint owner of the universe!

It is only as you use your mind that your fields become angels of mercy and inspiration, or mere passing spirits of no value to you at all.

No matter how exquisite the gorgeous sunset, that mind of yours which has gone on a holiday to appreciate it is far more wonderful.

Be very good to this friend of yours—your greatest friend, your mind!

TWO MEN AND TWO METHODS

I know a man who got in debt.

He owed a lot of cash.

And then he straight began to fret

And prophesy a crash.

He started in to dodge the men

That he owed money to.

And off he lost his temper when

They asked for what was due.

Another man got into debt.

His bills he couldn't pay.

But when a creditor he met

He didn't run away.

"I'm up against it, now," said he,

"I'm sorry, too, old man.

If you can still keep faith in me,

I'll pay you when I can."

.....

They did not hale him into court

Or garnishee his pay;

They knew he was the proper sort

And would make good some day.

And when at last his bills he'd met

He came and said to me:

"One never knows, till he's in debt,

How decent men can be."

Little Boy Stands On Tiptoe To Sign Tribute For Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP)—A seven-year old boy stood on tiptoe to sign the condolence book in the chapel where John Foster Dulles' body lay in state today in a closed, flag-draped casket.

His grandmother said they were great admirers of Dulles, whom they had seen and heard only through television and radio.

They were a sample of hundreds who carefully wrote their names in the book as a steady file of men, women and children came to pay tribute to a great man.

Large Outpouring
A little Negro woman almost seemed disappointed as she asked: "Are they going to open the casket?" A stern military guard shook his head.

Most of those who came to Gothic - style Bethlehem chapel, oldest wing of Washington National Cathedral, knew Dulles as a personality in the news—not as a man.

His lying in state was an added stop on a Washington tour for several busloads of high school students.

But the outpouring was the largest the cathedral had seen since President Woodrow Wilson's funeral in 1924, according to verger Edward Marr. The count late Tuesday night had passed 1,000.

Imposing Structure
The Episcopal cathedral, an imposing structure on a hilltop not far from many of the embassies in Washington, was first envisioned by George Washington. It is dedicated to promote religion, education and charity and may be used by various denominations.

Dulles himself was a lay Presbyterian leader and his funeral was to be performed according to Presbyterian rites.

His casket was set in the middle aisle of the arched and vaulted chapel, in the center of rows of columns and atop a slab of marble marking the entrance to a burial crypt below where Navy hero Adm. George Dewey is entombed.

Cross Of Flowers
The mahogany-colored casket—the Stars and Stripes spread over it—was bathed in light from nine overhead lamps. On the carved white altar burned six candles flanked by two baskets of delicate white flowers.

All around the room were floral tributes. A great cross of white carnations came from the White House.

TORNADOES HIT FIVE STATES; 9 ARE INJURED

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Another outbreak of stormy weather lashed the central part of the country Tuesday night and more showers and possible storms appeared in prospect today.

Tornadoes struck areas in five states, injuring at least nine persons and destroying or damaging several homes. The twisters which skipped across areas in southern Oklahoma and northwestern Wisconsin were the worst. Smaller tornadoes struck sections of Indiana, central Kansas and in suburban areas northwest of Chicago. No injuries were reported.

The tornadoic storms were part of a wet belt extending from Oklahoma northeast through the middle Mississippi Valley into the Great Lakes.

Home Is Destroyed
Eight members of two families were injured and their homes destroyed by a tornado that hammered the small towns of Graham and Clemat, in southern Oklahoma.

Three twisters raked northwestern Wisconsin. One pounded the Fairchild area, injuring one person. Another struck 60 miles south at Trempealeau, while a third flattened a grain and storage shed near Eau Claire.

Heavy rains fell throughout the storm belt.

Thunderstorms also erupted in the Gulf Coast states northward into Tennessee, with heaviest falls in northern Alabama.

Cool Air Spreads
Cool air from Canada extended southward through the Dakotas into northwest Minnesota and Nebraska and was expected to reach into the great lakes region during the day.

Showers were indicated across wide areas from the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley into western sections of the Atlantic Coast states.

In the South, showers were forecast from eastern Texas across the Gulf Coast states and into the southern Atlantic Coast states.

Haddix Hurls Perfect Game For 12 Innings, Then Loses In 13th; Hurls One Hitter

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

How good do you have to be? In all baseball history only seven pitchers ever have accomplished a perfect game, and none had to go more than nine innings.

In all baseball history no one ever had pitched more than 10 hitless innings.

Yet Tuesday night, in the greatest pitching performance of all time, Harvey Haddix, Pittsburgh's slim southpaw, pitched 12 innings of perfect ball — and lost.

An error, a sacrifice, an intentional walk and the only hit Haddix allowed — a rule-book double by Joe Adcock — did it, giving Milwaukee's National League leading Braves a 2-0 victory in 13 innings.

Burdette Gives Twelve

Haddix, giving up just one hit, was a loser. Lew Burdette giving up a dozen hits, was a winner.

There was nothing to approach Haddix' heart-breaker, of course, but the other two games scheduled in the NL had their moments of drama, too. At San Francisco, the Giants clung to second place by beating Los Angeles 6-4 on Leo Wagner's pinch-hit, grand-slam home run with one out in the ninth. At Cincinnati, comeback guy Don Newcombe won his third in a row for the Reds, beating Philadelphia 2-1.

After Haddix, who enters the record book with a 12-inning no-hitter, had retired 36 men in order, Felix Mantilla reached base on Don Hoak's error leading off the 13th at Milwaukee. Ed Mathews followed with a sacrifice and Haddix then walked Hank Aaron, the majors' top hitter at .442, intentionally.

Confusion In Thirteenth

Adcock then put a high slider over the fence for an apparent home run. A jubilant Aaron, however, cut for the dugout after rounding second and was passed by Adcock. The Braves hustled Aaron back to the base path and he resumed his journey home for the second run, with Adcock credited with a double.

There was a controversy over the score, however. NL President Warren Giles announced he believes the score should be 1-0, with Mantilla's run closing out play. But until an official change is made, the score reads 2-0.

For Haddix (3-3) "It's just another loss—and they're not good." Burdette (8-2), the majors' top winner, didn't walk a man and struck out two (to Haddix' eight) for his second shutout. He had only two wobbly innings — the third, when the Pirates had three singles, and the ninth, when they collected two.

Pitching — Harvey Haddix, Pittsburgh, became first ever to pitch perfect ball for 12 innings, setting record for hitless innings, but lost 2-0 in 13 innings as a result of the Braves' only hit, a double.

Hitting — Don Ferrarese, Indians, needed relief help for 3-0 victory over White Sox, but took care of hitting all by himself with a record tying three doubles by a pitcher, driving in two runs and scoring one.

WGET HELPS TO SEEK JUNIOR SPORTSCASTER

Robert Carpenter Jr., owner of the Philadelphia Phillies, has announced that a contest for boys aspiring to be professional sports-casters will get under way Friday.

Called the "Junior Sports-caster Contest," all boys 18 years of age and under will be eligible to enter. The contest is sponsored jointly by the Philadelphia Phillies, the Atlantic Refining Company and the stations of the Phillies radio network, including WGET.

"This is an outstanding opportunity for young men with a leaning toward sports broadcasting," Carpenter said. "The Junior Sports-caster Contest could be a springboard to a career as a future play-by-play announcer."

Under the rules, each boy is asked to submit a short letter telling why he'd like to be a sports announcer. From these letters, a committee will select the semi-finalists who will compete in a tape recorded, studio-type radio interview. The best of these will then compete in the finals, a play-by-play account on tape of part of the Phillies-Pittsburgh game on Tuesday night, August 11. The winner selected from this competition will be invited to broadcast, "live," a portion of the Phillies-Cardinals game from Connie Mack Stadium, Monday night, August 17.

The selection committee who will determine the winner comprises Phillies' announcers Claude Haring, Gene Kelly and Byram Saam and radio-TV producer, Les Quailey, N. W. Ayer & Son, Inc. All finalists and their parents will be entertained at a dinner prior to the final judging. Finalists and the grand winner will be given awards, including a season pass to the remaining Phillies' home games. The grand winner will receive additional prizes.

Full details will be announced regularly on the Phillies' radio broadcasts starting Friday.

HARVEY HADDIX EYES FARMING IN LATE YEARS

By JOE REICHLER

Who is Harvey Haddix? Harvey Haddix is a guy who made the big leagues at the rather late age of 27, who was a bachelor until he was nearly 30 and who pitched the greatest game of his life at 33, when smart baseball people were beginning to think he was through.

Harvey Haddix is a farm boy who was born in the little town of Medway, Ohio, and who intends to return to farming with his wife, Marcia, and his 17-month-old daughter, Teri Lynn, when his pitching days are over.

Harvey Haddix is a quiet, serious-minded little fellow who likes the theater, soft music and good books. He makes a good company because he is friendly, a good listener and quick to laugh.

Harvey Haddix is a pitcher who broke into the big league with a splash, winning 20 games in his first full year but failed to live up to his potential ever since.

"The Kitten," as Haddix is called because of his resemblance to Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, won 50 games in his first three years with the St. Louis Cardinals, but in the last three years, he has been shifted from one club to another, from the Cards to the Phillies, to the Reds, to the Pirates.

Not many expected too much from Haddix, who last year won only seven while losing eight. So the surprise was that much greater when the 5-9, 160-pounder Tuesday night pitched what is the most remarkable game in baseball history.

And should they forget, there will always be a line in the record books which will read something like this:

"Most innings permitting no batter to reach base—12—by Harvey Haddix, Pittsburgh vs. Milwaukee (N.L.), May 26, 1959."

Eastern League

Allentown, with a big boost from the bat of Jerry Mallett, holds undisputed possession of place in the Eastern League today.

Mallett, with a homer and a double, batted in four runs as the Red Sox defeated the Albany Senators 7-5 Tuesday night in 11 innings.

Williamsport, tied for first place before Tuesday night's games, fell a full game behind Allentown by losing to Reading 9-0.

Allentown blew a three-run lead, then came back to tie the game 5-5 at the end of nine innings. Dick McCarthy tripped to open the 11th and scored on Mallett's double. Mallett came home on Zeke King's single. His homer in the first inning scored Red Schreiber and Dan Lynk.

Thursday's Game

Moose vs. Rotary

The Rotary Tigers lost their first Little League defeat since 1957, breaking a winning streak of 19 games, as the Lions completely over-powered the defending champions 10-0 Tuesday evening on the Recreation Field.

The Rotary won their last game of the 1957 season to win the championship that year and then went through the 18-game 1958 season without a setback.

The Lions tallied a run in the top of the second when lead off batter Dan King singled to right. Bob Little drew a walk and two infield miscues enabled King to score. Manager Fred Baker's team added another run in the third. With two out Ed Tilberg got on via another infield error, stole second and third and scored on a Rotary bobble.

In the fifth the Lions exploded for six big runs on three hits by Mike Boyer, Bill Eden and Dan King and three more errors. The two big blows of the game came in the sixth when with one out and Bob Britcher on via a single to left, Eddie Tilberg blasted the first home run of the season into the deep left field corner. Bill Eden then uncorked an equally powerful blow into the same corner but was out at the plate trying for the four-bagger.

The Rotary was able to put runners on base in every inning except two. They loaded the bases in the fourth and sixth frames but excellent defensive fielding on the part of the Lions held the Tigers scoreless.

Mike Boyer, Bill Eden and Dan King each belted a pair of safeties for the winners. Bill Eden also turned a well pitched two-hitter to cop his first victory of the season. Bruce Garrett, who needed help from Phil Wisotzky in the fifth, is charged with the loss.

BIG ED WALSH, SPITBALL ACE, DIES OF CANCER

POMPAHO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Hall of Fame pitcher Ed Walsh is dead at 78 of cancer and the spitball pitch has lost a great advocate.

Big Ed—called him the "Ironman" in his prime—opposed the ban on the spitter as long as he lived. Spitball pitching was his forte and he used it in the early 1900s to win 40 games one season for the Chicago White Sox.

He died Tuesday, less than two weeks after he celebrated his 78th birthday, bedridden.

"I got a few innings of living left," he told a caller then.

Walsh took to his bed one year after arriving here in 1956 from Meriden, Conn., where he worked in the twilight years as a water department superintendent.

PART OF GAS TAX RUNS OUT NEXT MONDAY; BEING RENEWED

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's already complicated tax picture will become more complicated on Monday by a unique situation for which Justice Department officials were unable to find a precedent.

On Sunday midnight, two cents of the five-cents-a-gallon tax on gasoline and the one per cent realty transfer tax will expire. Both levies are due for reenactment, but not until sometime Monday.

It will mean, theoretically at least, that for a few hours on Monday Pennsylvania motorists and home buyers will be in a world of reduced taxation. It is unlikely, however, that any of them will benefit.

To Be Re-enacted
Atty. Gen. Anne X. Alperin said Tuesday that she interprets the law to mean any act signed on June 1 is effective for the entire day. Thus, people won't be able to buy gasoline two cents a gallon cheaper, or purchase a house without paying the transfer tax.

The Legislature expects to re-enact the taxes Monday afternoon.

Not Good Enough Driver For License

DENVER (AP) — A 17-year-old girl charged with driving without an operator's license appeared before Municipal Court Judge Gerald McAuliffe Tuesday.

Asked for an explanation, Carol Cooper replied:

"I didn't think I could drive well enough to get one."

The judge suspended $15 of the girl's $40 fine and suggested she "see if she could get one."

500 NEW CARS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Reading Co. plans to spend eight million dollars to build 500 new hopper cars and repair 5,000 hoppers, gondola and box cars.

The new cars will be built at the railroad's Reading shop and the repair work will be done at the Reading and St. Clair shops, the company announced Tuesday.

and Gov. Lawrence will sign them as soon as the legislation reaches his desk.

"We don't recognize such a thing as a fractional day," said Miss Alperin. "It is our interpretation that when the governor signs the bill June 1, it is effective for the entire day."

Spokesman for the Associated Petroleum Industries and the Pennsylvania Realtors Assn. said they do not plan to challenge the validity of Miss Alperin's opinion.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Big Four foreign ministers are taking a two-day break in their Geneva conference. It's a break for everyone else, too.

There have been a number of foreign ministers meetings since the war but none more boring than this one has been so far.

Three weeks of talks and the result is nothing. It's been diplomacy in a goldfish bowl—with amplifiers.

Nothing New Said

More than 100 aides surrounded the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union at their meetings in the Palace of Nations.

Then the press officers of the Big Four reported on what was said. Even when the ministers entertained one another at night their conversations were reported.

This would have been fine if they had had something new to say. But after each had stated his position, they spent the rest of the time repeating themselves.

Nobody Budgeted

Nobody moved an inch. Nothing was gained. Nothing was lost, except time.

All four ministers played the unbending iron man role—a pose that seemed clearly intended for propaganda but not for serious negotiating—with public avowals of where they stood and how they couldn't be moved.

It was the kind of performance that was a lead pipe cinch to lose respect for diplomacy or the serious intentions of the four governments to work out anything by peaceful negotiating.

Kind Of Ritual

There have been explanations out of Geneva that this has all been a kind of ritual dance through which diplomats go before getting down to serious and earnest bargaining.

If so, it's been a long dance. But the death of former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles gave the four ministers a chance to knock off the conversation.

They finished up Tuesday and then took planes for Washington and the Dulles funeral. They'll all be back in Geneva Friday to start again.

Plan Secret Sessions

Perhaps they had come to the conclusion that they had gone far enough with the kind of performance they put on and it was about time for a switch.

Just before they left Geneva the word was given out that they will go into secret sessions when they return.

It seems too much to expect that they will find any big or general or final solutions.

Perhaps the most to hope for is some kind of stop-gap settlement on the Soviet demand that the Western Big Three get their troops out of West Berlin.

SENATE PLANS GAS TAX OKAY

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Senate today scheduled an unusual Thursday session to give final approval to gasoline taxes due to expire at midnight Sunday and 12 1/2 million dollars in stop-gap appropriations.

Although the action could help clear up the complicated tax picture, the one per cent realty transfer tax—also due to expire at midnight Sunday—still cannot be finally approved until the House meets. The next session of the House is scheduled for Monday.

Two cents of the five-cent-a-gallon tax on gasoline is due to expire at the end of the biennium Sunday. The two-cent levy is estimated to bring in about 115 million dollars during the coming biennium. The real estate transfer tax is due to bring in about

The Adams County Chapter of the Red Cross took this group of blood donors, many of them Gettysburg Post Office employees, to the University of Pennsylvania Hospital at Philadelphia Tuesday where they will give blood to replace blood already used in transfusions for Mrs. Harold Wentz, Baltimore St., a surgery patient there. MOTHER AND 3 SAVED; DAD AND THREE DROWN

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) — Two men rescued a mother and three of her six children from Lake Marian Tuesday but the father and three other children drowned.

Raymond Adolphus Miller, 31, had taken his family on a late afternoon fishing trip when waves capsized their 12-foot boat.

Drowned with Miller were LeRoy 9, Shirley Jo, 7, and Andy Wallace, 4.

Mrs. Miller and the other children—Jimmy, 8, Donnie, 6, and Randell, 2—were brought ashore by O. L. Williams and R. J. Nasworthy, who noticed the boat in trouble while working on a dredge at the lake on the outskirts of this central Florida city.

Were Headed Back

The Millers had gone most of the way across the lake, half a mile wide, when wind roughened the water and they decided to head back.

The boat swamped and went down, stern first. Mrs. Miller and three of the children clung to the boat but the father and other children disappeared in the water. Their bodies were found an hour later.

Miller, a native of Gadsden, Ala., was employed by a citrus packing firm.

Gave Jewels Away In Her Old Shoes

SAN ANSELMO, Calif. (AP) — Hazel Smith Johnson, 55, said today she gave her shoes to charity but she didn't mean to include her jewels.

She asked police to help her recover a diamond bracelet, a diamond bar pin and a diamond ring. She explained she stuffs her jewelry in old shoes for hiding. The items in question disappeared with a lot of shoes she gave to a charitable organization.

She said the missing jewelry was appraised at $2,200.

City Officials Read Fine Print

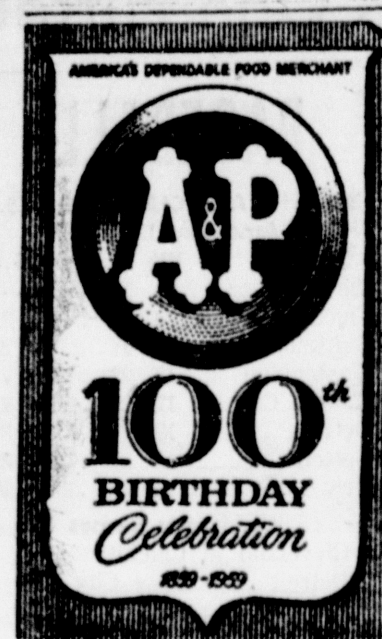

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Board of Supervisors hunted through the fine print in a hurry Tuesday and struck the word "beer" out of a catering contract.

Marguerite Pratt, a citizen, pointed out the board was about to permit the sale of beer in four city parks patronized almost exclusively by teen-agers. But Rose Schuman, who is to manage the four concessions, said it wouldn't have made any difference.

"I have no license to sell beer," she said, "and I wouldn't sell it on a bet."

Modest Haddix Amazed He Hurlled "Greatest Game"

Editors: Harvey Haddix, Pittsburgh southpaw, turned in baseball's greatest pitching performance Tuesday night against the Braves with 12 perfect innings only to lose a 13-inning one-hitter. Joe Reichler, AP's baseball expert and a close personal friend, talked with Haddix by telephone after the game and obtained this vivid story.

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Harvey Haddix laughed when told he had made pitching history against the Milwaukee Braves Tuesday night.

"Who, me?" asked the 33-year-old Pittsburgh Pirate left-hander. "All I know is we lost, 2-0, in 13 innings. What's so historic about that? Didn't anyone else ever lose a 13-inning shutout?"

Wait a minute. Wasn't he aware that although he was beaten, he had turned in the greatest pitching performance in baseball history? That he had hurled 12 perfect innings of perfect baseball, a dozen innings in which he faced 36 Milwaukee batters and not one of them reached base until an error by Don Hoak permitted Felix Mantilla to reach first in the 13th inning?

Unaware Of Greatness

"Yes," Haddix replied. "Sure, I know it. And I know I had a no-hitter and perfect game from the third inning on. I couldn't remember walking a batter and I sure knew nobody had gotten a base hit off me."

Well, did he know that no pitcher, dating back to baseball's first big league season, in 1876, had ever pitched more than 27 batters in a row, let alone 36; that no one had pitched 12 hitless, let alone perfect, innings, in all that time?

"You're kidding," Harvey said.

"You mean nobody? Not even guys like Cy Young and Walter Johnson and Christy Mathewson or any of those old fellows? Well, what do you know about that?"

The genuinely modest little southpaw from Springfield, Ohio — he stands 5-9 and weighs 160 pounds — was slowly beginning to realize his accomplishment.

"I know I was really sharp," he admitted, "and it was one of my good games. But that doesn't change things. It's just another loss. Any defeat gives me a let-down feeling. I'd probably have been thrilled if we won. But you never feel good when you lose, no matter how you've pitched."

Never Complained

Haddix never complained about the way he lost the game. After Mantilla was safe at first on Hoak's wild throw, Ed Matthews sacrificed, Henry Aaron was purposely passed, and Joe Adcock sent a towering drive into the stands. He lost a homer when he passed Aaron between second and third and was awarded only a double.

Did Hoak apologize for his damaging error?

"No," said Haddix. "Why should he? He drove me back to the hotel after the game and all he said was 'I booted 'em before and I'll boot 'em again.' That's the kind of guy he is and I admire him."

What was he going to do now that the tension had worn off? "I'm going right to bed," he said. "I've got a heavy cough. I've had it for several days. It bothered me all night. I was sucking on cold tablets all during the game."

Did his wife, Marcia, to whom he's been married since 1954, know what he did? Did he call her?

"I don't know whether she knows or not," said Haddix.

Twin Sisters Win Top Nursing Prize

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Twin sisters from Bradford County won the Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing's top prize for scholastic achievement Tuesday night at commencement exercises.

They are Carolyn and Marilyn Lupton, 20-year-old daughters of Donald C. Lupton, a farmer in Wilawana, Pa. The identical twins had identical "A" averages.

Carolyn is class president and Marilyn is treasurer of the student council. It was the first time in the school's 68-year history that the top award was given to two graduates.

HARRISBURG (AP) — A proposal introduced in the Senate by Sen. Thomas P. Harney (R-Chester) would add some four tenths of a mile of roadway in Chester County to the state highways system.

The measure ($788) proposed Tuesday would include a total of about nine tenths of a mile from the intersection of Hannum Ave. and North New St. southeast and east to the West Chester borough line. Some five tenths of a mile from the intersection of High and Market streets to the borough limit already is maintained by the state.

"She's home in Springfield and it's too late to call her tonight. I may call her tomorrow."

What kind of a pitch did he throw Adcock?

"A high slider that failed to come down," he said. "I threw a lot of sliders, along with a fast ball and a curve. I think I threw two change-ups."

Did anyone on his club say anything during the game?

"Nope. Not a word."

How about the Braves? Did they say anything?

"Only once. When I came to bat in the ninth, Del Crandall said, 'Hey, you're pitching a pretty good game.'"

SOVIETS WILL MATCH ROCKET BASES OF U. S.

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev says the Soviet Union is ready to set up rocket bases in Albania and Bulgaria to match any the United States may establish in Italy or Greece.

The Soviet Premier, visiting Albania, repeated an earlier Soviet proposal for a ban on nuclear weapons in the Balkan peninsula to make it "a peninsula of peace without any missiles or nuclear weapons."

He warned Italy and Greece that U.S. rockets bases on their territory "will attract our rockets as a magnet."

GET APPOINTMENTS

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Senate has confirmed the reappointment by Gov. Lawrence of Stanley Morton, Pittsburgh, as a member of the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners.

The Senate also confirmed Tuesday appointments to these hospital boards of trustees: Wernersville State Hospital—Frank E. Wert, Reading; Torrancia State Hospital—Joseph Cernuto, Mount Pleasant, Westmoreland County.

1,714 PIGS SOLD

HARRISBURG (AP) — Farmers from 14 counties sold 1,714 feeder pigs at a sale Tuesday in the Farm Show building sponsored by the South Central Swine Producers Assn.

The pigs, averaging 49 pounds a head, sold for an average of 31.2 cents a pound. The per head average was $15.26, for a sale total of $26,162.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate Appropriations subcommittee has approved a $50,000 limit on the total price supports that can go to any one farm or farmer. The House has passed a similar provision.

headed against the Soviet Union, against Albania and other Socialist (Communist) countries," he said in a speech Tuesday in Tirana, the Albanian capital.

If Italy and Greece go ahead with NATO plans to locate bases for American-supplied missiles on their territory, Khrushchev declared, "it will compel us to build up forces for a worthy reply."

"Perhaps," he said, "we shall have to reach agreement with the government of the People's Republic of Albania to put something here to counter them."

Albania has a common frontier with Greece and is only 100 or so miles across the Adriatic from Italy. The Italians have agreed to accept American intermediate range missiles which can carry nuclear warheads and are expected to begin getting them by early July.

There has been no word of a similar agreement between the United States and Greece, although the two nations have agreed the Greek army will get American training in the use of nuclear weapons.

OFFICIALS ARE AT ODDS OVER TIMETABLE ON NEW HIGHWAY

HARRISBURG (AP)—Highways Secretary Park H. Martin and the head of the Keystone Shortway Assn. found themselves at odds today on a timetable for construction of the 291-mile federal interstate road between Sharon and Stroudsburg.

Martin said he could not see how the four-lane shortway could be completed before 10 years. Sen. Z. H. Confair (R-Lycum), association president, said two lanes could be opened by 1966.

Addressing a meeting of the association and lawmakers representing counties along the proposed Shortway, Martin said Tuesday night:

"In order to spread the money, in order to be fair to all sections, it will take at least 10 years to complete this project."

Not Certain

And he emphasized that even that timetable would be in jeopardy unless the Legislature refuse to accept his proposals to increasing gasoline taxes and motor license fees to qualify for additional federal aid.

Confair, in an interview, said the two-lane road could be built at reduced costs in the next six or seven years and then expanded to four lanes as additional funds become available.

Asked about this, Martin said two-lane construction would nevertheless mean building bridges and grading the route to accommodate four lanes.

State's Share Is $35 Million

"Paving another two lanes is a comparatively minor item," the highways secretary added.

Dynamite Blast Kills Two Miners

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—A premature dynamite explosion killed two miners shortly before the end of their shift Tuesday at the Village Slope Coal Co. in nearby Throop.

The victims were Albert Borsiewicz, 50, a former councilman in Dickson City, and John Namovich, 55, of Throop.

Lando Preschutti, foreman at the mine, said there was no way of knowing immediately what caused the blast. The men had drilled holes preparatory to blasting. They planned to set the charge off, quit for the day, and take out the coal today.

State and federal mine inspectors planned an investigation.

Confair, in addressing the meeting, said the state's share for the Shortway would amount only to $35 million dollars, the federal government putting up the remaining 250 millions.

"If we get the Keystone Shortway, it would be the best business buy for Pennsylvania," he added.

The association's board of directors adopted a resolution urging Congress to establish a policy of reimbursing states for toll and free roads incorporated into the interstate system.

May Ban Billboards

It urged the Legislature to memorialize Congress in support of the plan.

"It is only equitable and fair that the states be reimbursed for the toll and free highways incorporated in the national system of interstate and defense highways," said the resolution.

The association said federal funds could be used to liquidate the cost of the Pennsylvania Turnpike and construct other highways on the federal aid system.

The association also said it would look into the question of supporting Gov. Lawrence's proposal to ban billboards on interstate highways.

The program consisted of vocal selections "Memories," "On the Road to Mandalay" and "Danny Boy" by Stewart N. Long, accompanied by George P. Smith. Mark Tyce, Lebanon, governor of Rotary District No. 729, spoke briefly. Guest briefly was the Rev. Harry Richwine, pastor of the Salem Lutheran Church, Lebanon, whose remarks were concerned with character. John D. Thrush, Gettysburg, was a visitor.

President E. Basehoar announced that a total of $74.25 had been received from Rotarians last week toward the high school band uniform fund. The vocational service committee, Howard A. Daum, chairman, was in charge of last evening's program.

Sons and daughters night will be observed at the dinner meeting next Tuesday at 6:15 p.m. at Schotties' Hotel. Arrangements are in charge of the attendance committee, A. W. Schott, chairman, Nevaeh A. Crouse, Paul E. King, Preston L. Myers, Charles E. Slusser and Paul R. Snyder.

Girl Scouts Meet

The Girl Scouts of Troop 56 met on Monday after school in the engine house, at which time the group worked on Father's Day remembrances under the supervision of Mrs. James H. Spalding and Mrs. George Rhodes, troop leaders; Bonnie Storm, troop aide, and Sandi Hawk, Senior Scout. Work on the project will be continued at the final meeting of the troop next Monday, 3 p.m., in the engine house. The girls have been invited to spend Tuesday, June 23, at the cottage of Tina Reigle's parents, East Berlin. Permission slips for the outing will be distributed at the meeting next week. In case of rain on June 23 the outing will be held on Thursday, June 25. Girls of the community in the Fifth grade, who are not Girl Scouts, are invited to join Troop 56.

"Kathy," an eight-month-old Borzoi ("Russian wolfhound"), owned by Roy M. Maitland, Maple Ave., won first prize in her class of six to nine-month-old Borzois at the Borzoi Specialty Dog Show on Saturday in Monmouth, N. J. The first prize was a blue ribbon and silver dish.

Donald Kump, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kump, near town, was awarded his Bachelor of Science degree in elementary education at the annual commencement exercises on Sunday at Shippensburg State Teachers' College. Attending the baccalaureate and commencement were his parents and sister, Carolyn, and Miss Nancy Douglas, Gettysburg. He has accepted a position in Rolling Acres Elementary School for the fall term.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Emory Weaver, S. Queen St., have returned home after spending several days in Atlantic City as the guests of the Donegal Mutual Insurance Company of Marietta as an award for state roads. The state would receive an additional one half of 1 per cent in federal aid if a billboard restriction is imposed.

CLEVELAND — Magic Circle
City of the Week Gardens, the Arts, Big-Time Sports Enhance Ohio's Big City

(By EDWARD COLLIER)

Cleveland is a vital, and frequently photogenic, composite of the American industrial dream. Here people of many nationalities and families of great wealth share and participate in the good life: gardens on every hand, from those in the tiniest of back yards to the vast civic masterpieces; art, culture and music on a staggering per capita scale; avidly-backed big-time sports, from professional baseball and football to golf and polo; free museums of every kind; some 25 foreign language newspapers, several of them dailies.

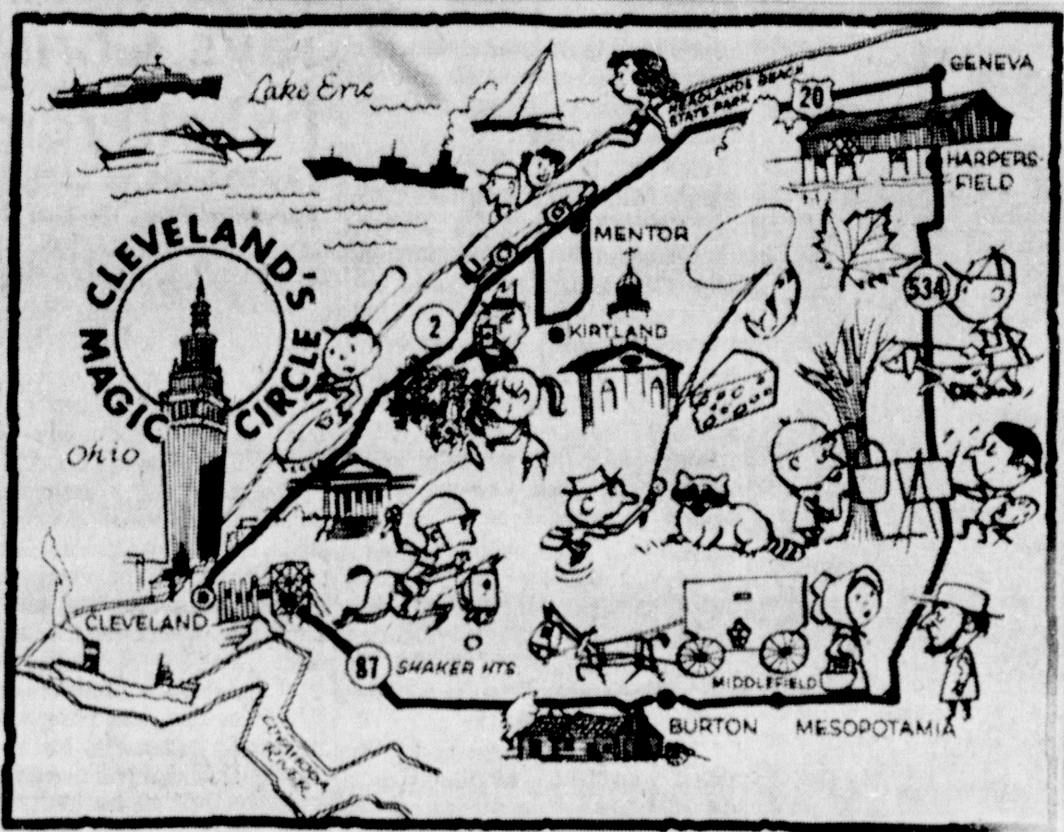

The place to start your Magic Circle tour is from the observation floor of Terminal Tower, tallest building outside New York. Only here can you begin to comprehend, to get a grasp of the metropolis that stretches out its wings from the shores of Lake Erie, like a sturdy butterfly. The drama and rhythm of industry in motion unfold in the panorama below. From the south windows you see giant steel mills, their tall stacks belching out flame-hued smoke. Between the plants winds the Cuyahoga River, like a broken-backed snake. Bridges of every type and vintage cross the dark brown waters; long iron ore freighters are tied up at the countless docks.

City's Pride

Pride of Cleveland is the vista to the north. The grassy Mall leads past the handsome Auditorium and civic buildings, down to the 80,000-seat Municipal Stadium on the lake front. It is protectively designed like a bowl so that chill breezes will not curb the fans' enthusiasm for the Indians' American League baseball club and the Browns of pro football fame.

The blue and often white capped waters of Lake Erie carry a constant parade of big ore vessels, yachts, power boats. The once unsightly shore line has been converted into a landscaped expressway that makes driving a pleasure in Cleveland.

Across from the entrance to Terminal Tower is Public Square, four precision-landscaped square blocks. One holds the 103-foot high Soldiers and Sailors' Monument, an astounding memorial in the busy heart of a city. Citizens by the thousands pass it daily;

The good life of Cleveland is centered around its gardens and great industries, baseball and famed museums. From Terminal Tower, the city's skyscraper landmark, the Magic Circle leads through the exclusive Shaker Heights residential section to the maple sugar country around Burton; Middlefield, land of the "plain people" (Amish), who still use horse-drawn buggies; north to Harpersfield, where one of eastern Ohio's picturesque covered bridges has been preserved; then back to Cleveland via Lake Erie beach resorts; Mentor, to visit President Garfield's home, and Kirtland to see the first Mormon temple in the U.S.

few have ever been inside where the names of 9,000 men from Cuyahoga County who served in the Grand Army of the Republic are carved in the marble walls. Most striking are the four recessed center panels. Standing out in bas-relief are fine bronze sculptured figures in Civil War scenes. In one Lincoln is unshackling the chains of a slave; another pays tribute to Ohio women who organized a hospital service for soldiers in the field. The detail is perfect: hands, feet, facial expressions. Clothing of the period is authentic down to the buttons and boots.

Famed Gardens

The Magic Circle out of downtown Cleveland follows the lake front northeast over new Memorial Shoreway, then turns right on East Boulevard which winds along the ledge of a ravine through Rockefeller Park. Here are the famed Cultural Gardens, each in a distinctive setting that combines the landscape architecture and sculpture of cultures such as the English, Polish, German, Czech, Italian, Hebrew, Hungarian and Greek. There is emphasis on formal little pools, non-military statuary and evergreen ground covering which runs over the stone and terraced hillside down to Liberty Boulevard in the valley.

Center of Cleveland's amazing artistic and cultural life is farther along on East and Liberty Boulevards, at Wade Park and University Circle. Dominant is the world-renowned Cleveland Museum of Arts which looks out over fountains to a sunken, heavily-bordered lagoon. Even for those uninitiated in the world of art, there are beauty, enchantment and understanding in this quiet showplace.

In addition to the magnificent paintings, visitors of all ages seem to take special notice of three things. First is Marie Antoinette's bed, such a popular magnet that it is protected by a plate glass wall. My first impression was of something that Walt Disney might draw for a fairy tale queen. There is no canopy, but the richly brocade head and foot boards are outlined by carved gold-leaf. Hardly a spectator fails to comment: "She must have been a tiny woman — the bed is so short!"

Next is Armour Court with its spectacular life-sized displays of 16th Century German coats of protective mail for both man and horse. Lining the walls are tapestries, spears, crossbows with winders, swords, rapiers and maces.

Admired Painting

Currently, the most admired attraction is "The Nativity," a painting by the Flemish artist, Gerard David (1450-1523). The guard told us it is valued at $300,000. This masterpiece is small and concise and has a photographic clarity of detail that you will be able to recall a year later.

Most people seem startled when they become aware that television cameras constantly follow them from obscure ceiling vantage points of every room. These electronic guardians "pipe back" the behavior of the humans to a central control room.

The Museum of Art has equally distinguished neighbors: heavily endowed Western Reserve University and its sleek, modern cream-colored buildings with panels of green glass; Case Institute of Technology; the Cleveland Rose Gardens; and the newly completed Museum of Natural History, a tan brick and glass structure that sprawls over a ledge in the park, modern as tomorrow.

As you enter, there is a dramatic map of our world of today, then colorful futuristic chairs in which you can rest after hours of viewing exhibits, which range from the skeleton of an Ohio fossil elephant to fluorescent minerals to shrunken heads. Finishing touches are being put on the adjoining Ralph Mueller Planetarium and its Hanna Star Dome.

That Cleveland is a city of gardens is no mere civic boast. Pupils from kindergarten to the ninth grade participate in the school gardening program, with three fourths of the 15,000 students enrolled gardening at home. This love of nature is further emphasized by the "emerald necklace" of nine metropolitan parks, called reservations, which nearly ring the city with some 14,000 acres of semi-wilderness areas.

Motor Exodus

Starting with the first hint of spring there is a motor exodus from the city to these reservations for picnicking and hiking over the labeled nature and wildflower trails. It is a very special paradise for the photographer and artist.

We started our Magic Circle tour out of Cleveland by driving east (Ohio 87) through Shaker Heights, one of the city's fine residential areas, and on across rolling, wooded country to Burton. Only 30 miles from Cleveland, this pioneer town in the heart of the maple sugar country has retained much of its old fashioned, neighborly charm.

Celebrations start here late in February at the Log Cabin Maple middle of the town square. Pioneer methods are retained and the evaporators are fired by hand with slabs of sweet-smelling maple wood. Every one of the 400 majestic old maple trees in the town square is double tapped, and galvanized buckets hang under the spigots. The sap is collected and hauled into camp on wooden sleds pulled by a yoke of twin Holstein cows — oxen used to do the job.

Butter Churn (Dairy) Festival is observed in June; county brush welders exhibit their work at the annual June Art Show; Labor Day weekend the town buzzes with activity at the Geauga County Fair, one of the oldest in Ohio. Final event is the Apple Butter Festival which attracts thousands in October. Huge old pioneer iron pots are swung from tree-branch tripods over an outdoor fire as the apple butter is cooked and stirred.

At all seasons of the year Burton is a delightful weekend trip objective, where you can visit the little county historical museum just across the street from the town square. It is jammed with curios which range from melodeons, parlor organs and arrowheads to 1870 dolls, early-settler rifles and a baby's cradle rocker on wheels.

Nostalgic Town

The Museum has overflowed out into a grassy park where there is a little one-room 1872 vintage schoolhouse, hand-hewn stone horse watering trough, a real blacksmith shop and a barn with a haphazard collection that excites parents as well as the hordes of children who finally have to be dragged away. There is a handsome three-seated surrey with the fringe on top. A patient local farmer stands by and lets one group of youngsters after another climb into the one-horse treadmill, still in as good condition as it was in the days when old Dobbin walked on the treadles to furnish power for pumping water and sawing logs.

This also is the land of the Amish who migrated on to Ohio from Pennsylvania. Continuing east from Burton (Ohio 87) through Middlefield, or exploring the side county roads, it is not unusual on a Sunday to see these dedicated "plain people" rolling along in their little box-like black rigs (buggies), pulled at an amazingly fast clip by a well-groomed trotting horse.

Glimpses of the men show them in their black frock coats, wide black hats and square cut chin whiskers. The bonneted women are permitted solid purple, blue, or maroon skirts mainly covered by black shawls. Babies can be swathed in pink blankets, but the Amish wear no buttons, jewelry or decoration of any sort.

Spot Amish Farm

You can spot an Amish farm, not just by the buggies in the yard but by the absence of tractors, television antennae, lightning rods. Their farms are neat, the silos and curtainless houses painted white and the barns maroon.

At Mesopotamia the Magic Circle turns north (Ohio 534) through the pastoral farm country of Ashland County to Harpersfield. Here is one of Ohio's few remaining old covered bridges, a classic gem for photographers. I got my best pictures of the long, graceful span from downstream early in the afternoon.

The Magic Circle back (U.S. 20) to Cleveland includes a short detour to Kirtland to see the much-photographed first Mormon Temple in the United States, completed in 1836. A bit on the stark side, this tall white Doric-type edifice is being completely renovated inside and out, but without changing its original furnishings, or wavy glass window squares. One of the members who as contributing his time on a Saturday explained to us that Brigham Young, first Apostle of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, had taken his followers on to Utah; that the son ordained by Joseph Smith, founder of the Mormon religion, has been too young to take over here until 15 years later.

Like Whirlaway in 1941, Roy Orbitt came from last place to win the 1959 Preakness at Pimlico.

BACKS PLAN TO EXEMPT MEALS UNDER FIFTY CENTS

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov.

Lawrence Tuesday endorsed a new House Ways and Means Committee plan restoring the 50-cent exemption from the 3½ per cent sales tax on restaurant meals.

"We felt extension of the tax down to meals costing more than 10 cents was hitting a lot of people in the lower income brackets," Lawrence told his weekly news conference.

He said putting the exemption back at 50 cents, would cost the commonwealth 14 million dollars a biennium in lost revenue.

Cites Ways To Make It Up

However, he said the lost revenue could be made up by "any number of bills" now before the House.

"If the Legislature passes the rest of my tax program, we'll be all right," he added.

The governor said extension of the tax down to meals costing more than 10 cents was "one part of (the tax) program I was not too enthusiastic about."

"I think if we pass the rest of the program we can make it up," he added.

The existing 10-cent exemption on restaurant meals became effective April 15 under the new 163-million-dollar sales tax law.

Present New Nuisance

"The present law has been found to be a nuisance," said Ways and Means Chairman Robert Wheeler Jr. (D—Fayette). "There were objections that school children are being taxed when they buy a sundae or some small purchase like that."

Wheeler disclosed that the committee decided Monday night to close a loophole in the sales tax law dealing with drive-in restaurants. Some drive-ins have not been collecting the tax on the claim that their service involved take-out food. Under an amendment, these meals would be considered taxable.

The surprise committee action in cutting revenue was reportedly done on the basis of beating Senate Republicans to the punch on similar legislation. The committee is controlled by Democrats.

To Call Caucus

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, House Republican floor leader, called a party caucus for late in the day to lay down policy on a Democratic plan to push for a vote Wednesday on extending the sales tax to beer and liquor.

"I don't know what we'll do although our policy has been to hold out on tax votes until the budget hearings are over, probably in two or three weeks," Johnson said.

As now written, the sales tax would be imposed on sales at liquor stores and by beer distributors. Across-the-bar drinks would continue to be exempt.

Special Message

Lawrence gave a special 1,000-word message to the Legislature Monday night. He said the state would start losing $318,000 a day in potential tax revenue starting June 1 if there is no action on the fiscal problem.

He urged support for $211,500,000 in tax recommendations on the House agenda. He said the recommendations represent compromise and reflect no partisanship since they were made originally by his bipartisan Tax Study Committee.

Other Developments

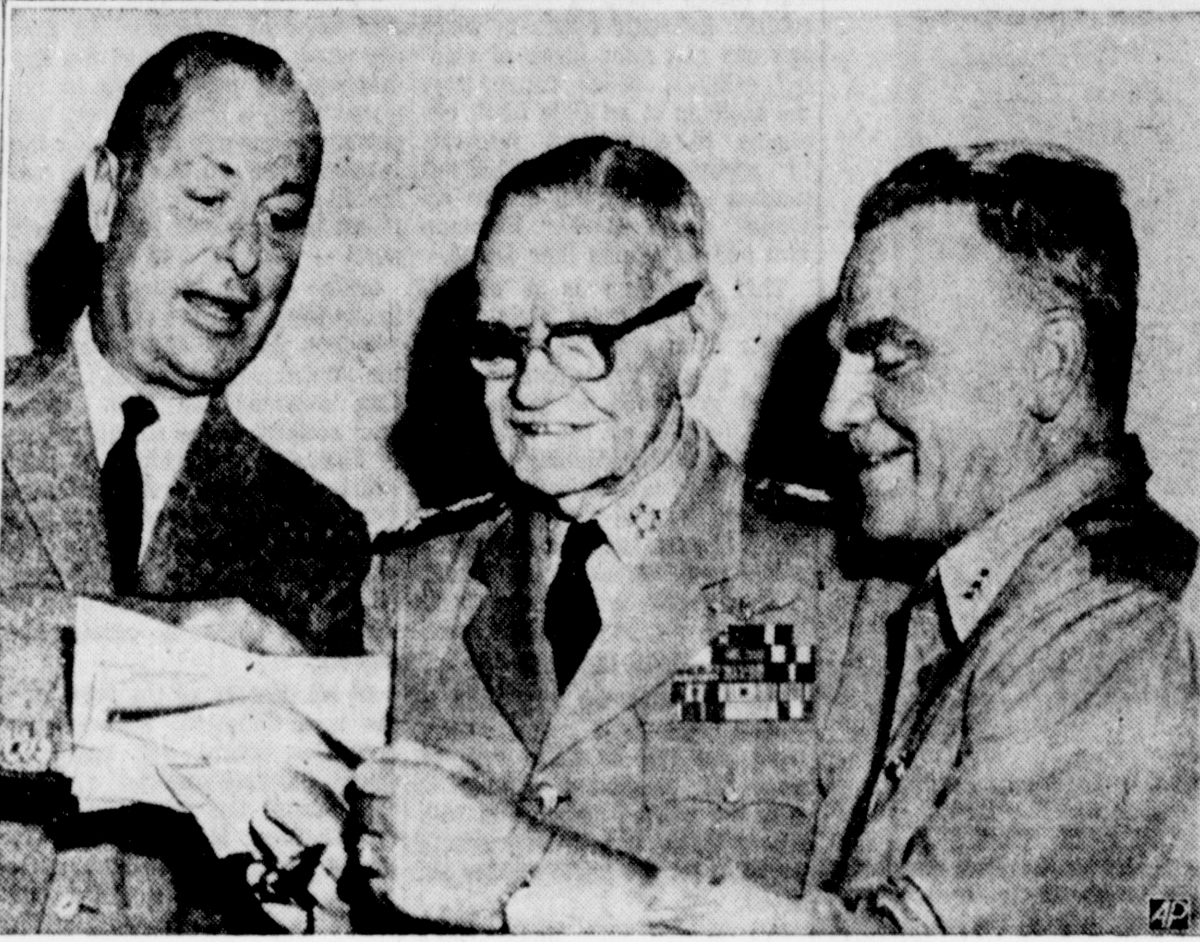

Migrant labor—The GOP-controlled Senate defeated a Democratic motion to return to committee for public hearings legislation transferring migrant labor problems from the Labor and Industry Department to the Agriculture Department.

Real estate transfer tax — A House-Senate conference committee reached a compromise on a plan to exempt houses traded for new dwellings from the 1 per cent real estate transfer tax.

The compromise came on the issue of just what is a new dwelling. As now rewritten, new dwellings would be defined as only those never occupied.

Host To Court

Lawrence message — Lawrence, who entertained the State Supreme Court at a formal dinner at the executive mansion, was unable to deliver his tax review in person. For the most part, it covered old ground.

Adm. William F. Halsey Jr., whose experiences in the Battle of Guadalcanal are being made into a movie, talks in Hollywood with Producer-Director Robert Montgomery and Actor James Cagney, who'll portray the doughty seaman. They were installed by Mrs. Miles Reifsnider, Mrs. Ned Musser, retiring president, presented the president's pin to Mrs. Stonifer who, in turn, presented Mrs. Musser a past president's pin.

The program for the evening included two piano solos by Mrs. Robert Flickinger, "The Lost Chord" and "Glow Worm"; a solo, "Trees," Mrs. David Reifsnider; poems, Susan Musser, Diana Karan Ficus and Bobby while Democrats have a paper-thin majority in the House — to work out some sort of agreement. "I urge the Legislature to use the days immediately ahead to rescue the Commonwealth from its present financial difficulties, so that we can move on to the larger problems which are ours to solve," he added.

Lawrence said his $1,385,000,000 budget for the next two years starting June 1 has been available for examination by the lawmakers since March 2.

And he renewed his position that the budget has been developed honestly, "without padding and without fat."

HOFFA SAYS REUTHER HAS "NO BRAINS"

DETROIT (AP)—James R. Hoffa and Walter P. Reuther are at verbal swords points.

Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, said in Boston Monday that Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, has "no brains, no guts." He asserted that Reuther "hid out" from Detroit picket line battles in the 1930s.

There were 19 members and two guests present. The invocation was by Mrs. Charles R. Clutz, Mrs. George Harner, chairman, reported for the nominating committee.

Says Christians Too Hard To Tell From Non-Christians

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Judging by the way they act, it's hard to tell the difference between a Christian and a non-Christian.

That's the troubled conclusion of a report presented Tuesday to the 171st General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church.

"There is not a sufficient discernible difference between the goals, purposes, morals and aspirations of the average church member and those of his non-Christian friends," the analysis said.

Includes Ministers

"His culture has absorbed him. He has forgotten that his 'being in Christ' should more decisively determine his conduct than his being 'in Missouri' or 'in Wisconsin'."

The study, drawn up by a commission of evangelism headed by the Rev. Robert M. Skinner, of Amarillo, Texas, said some ministers also have taken on traits of society in general—rather than being distinctively Christian.

"Some in their private lives in too many instances have interpreted their vocation in secular terms—being too much concerned with salary, prestige and fringe benefits," the report said.

Lacks Influence

The church itself, the report added, has developed a tendency to appraise strength in worldly terms—statistics, buildings, budgets and swelling memberships.

"The result of this excessive identification with our culture can be seen in the tragic fact that the Christian church does not influence our society in proportion to its numerical strength," the report said.

It called for various steps to deepen Christian "faith and life" among church members.

John Foster Dulles Was A Big Man Who Thought And Talked In "Mighty Terms"

Editor's Note: This is the second of three articles on the life and times of John Foster Dulles.

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP)—John Foster Dulles thought in big terms and often talked in big terms. He did not underestimate himself. He had, and radiated, a serene confidence that the ship of state would sail well if he was in charge of the navigating.

"When is Dulles going to quit?" was a question frequently put to State Department correspondents in the middle years of Dulles' regime.

"When they carry him out in a coffin," was the usual answer, as accurate as it was callous.

Dulles didn't quit until he knew he was too ill to go on. And even from his sickbed he continued to counsel President Eisenhower, who visited him frequently, and State Department officials who also came to see him.

Dulles came to power—and it was real, H-bomb era power that he wielded, not just advice to the White House—on a tide of optimism.

Think back to 1953. The Korean War was still going on, to nobody's satisfaction. Harry Truman's secretary of state, Dean Acheson, was under attack from all sides. The cold war was smoldering like an imminent volcano. It could have been argued—and was—that the time had come for a change.

Not Enough

Dulles was in the thick of the 1952 presidential campaign. He blasted the Truman-Acheson policy as negative and even immoral. He said "containment" of communism behind its existent borders was not enough. There had to be, he said, a new dynamic approach. And he was eager to supply it.

Political sides may change but the cruel facts of life go on. Impartial observers have noted no great shift of American foreign policy since Dulles took office. With the one big exception that, since 1953, no American soldier has been involved in a shooting war.

There have been near misses. Dulles has been assailed by Democratic critics for "brinkmanship"—for bringing his country dangerously close to war. Some of these same critics have accused him of dithering—of failure to provide the firm foreign policy he once promised.

Wrong Both Ways

This is nothing new. No secretary of state within memory has escaped the fate of being damned if he did and damned if he didn't.

READY TO ROLL—A lake forms behind the 374-foot high arch of the Wu Sheh Dam ready to provide water power as the structure nears completion on Taiwan.

Dulles' ambition, dating back to his youth, was to be secretary of state. He didn't make it until the age when most men are thinking about retirement. The word retirement never seemed to cross Dulles' mind. He was always thinking ahead, planning ahead. He knew, naturally, that someday he would have to turn over the reins to someone else. But he wasn't going to until he had to.

And when the time came he hand-picked his successor, former Massachusetts Gov. Christian A. Herter, who had picked up what he could from Dulles—not always a man to share his thinking with others — as undersecretary of state.

Thrived On Crisis

Dulles seemed to thrive on crises. And his six years of tenure gave him much to thrive on. The Communist offensive appeared to slacken at times but always pressed onward—to new gains in Indochina, the Near East and elsewhere.

Also it was Dulles—more than anyone else, probably—who had the job of holding the Western alliance together against the constant Red threat.

This didn't always make him a popular figure in Europe, any more than it did in all circles at home. He came frequently under attack in Britain, for instance, especially when this country put its foot down on the British-French-Israeli invasion of the Suez Canal Zone.

Dulles was not the most modest of men but he bore up under this and many another tornado of criticism. As a highly successful international lawyer, he was not accustomed to failure—or even to acknowledging it when it happened. Besides, he had the unswerving support of his boss, Dwight D. Eisenhower, who repeatedly called him the world's foremost expert on international affairs.

Served In Senate

By appointment of New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Dulles served in the Senate for a time before becoming secretary of state. He decided against running for election to the post but changed his mind—to his later regret—and lost resoundingly.

But to achieve his ambition, being secretary of state, Dulles did not need to run for office.

He did campaign for Eisenhower in 1952 and it was no surprise to anybody when Eisenhower announced Dulles as his first cabinet appointee.

Dulles loved his job, worked at it day and night, traveled some 100,000 miles a year.

Of him it could be said, to use the Woodrow Wilson campaign slogan: "He kept us out of war."

It is for the future to determine whether his policies, frequently taking into account the risk of war, were as sound as he and Eisenhower thought they were.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

STAMMERING LOST TERROR FOR SPEAKER

By RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK (AP)—"For years," said the man from Texas, "I ordered chicken salad sandwiches, which I hate, because it was the only item on the menu I could pronounce without stammering."

John Quincy Mahaffey, editor of the Texarkana Gazette, is a gifted practitioner of the art of after-dinner speaking, much in demand. He stands there, mesmerizing an audience, weaving his ancient witchcraft. Nobody moves except when he makes them laugh, which is often.

Afterward, few remember that J. Q. has a speech impediment. Or rather, he uses it to enhance what he wants to say. Stammering no longer terrorizes him.

Unable To Talk

Years ago, however, it throttled him to such a point he thought he might have to give up being a newspaper reporter. He couldn't ask questions. He would "freeze," completely unable to talk.

His managing editor heard him struggling on the telephone one day and passed the word around the office, "Don't let Jake talk long-distance—ever. He's unbalancing my budget."

Day after day, J. Q. despairing, lay settled for the chicken salad sandwich. "Once or twice," he said, "I made a stab at ordering the pimiento-and-egg. But I never made it."

Turning Point

Then the turning-point came. It came in a hotel barber shop through a face full of lather.

Will Rogers, the cowboy humorist, arrived in Texarkana on a fund-raising tour. J. Q. was assigned to meet him and get a story, a funny story, of course.

All the way to the airport, he kept repeating, "My name is Mahaffey and I'm a reporter. My name is Mahaffey and I'm a reporter." It came out smooth as silk.

But when he saw Rogers, he froze again. The words stuck in his throat. In panic, he followed Rogers to the hotel and called him on the telephone. Rogers answered it himself. J. Q. couldn't even say "hello." He hung up, completely shattered now.

A moment later, Rogers came downstairs and went to the barber shop. J. Q. followed him and sat there, struggling to speak. Suddenly, the barber looked at J. Q. and said "Next — you, you're next." J. Q. only shook his head.

At that point, Rogers sat up in the chair and beckoned to J. Q. "Old country boy," he said, "you've been following me all morning so you must want something. Now you sit over here and tell me what it is you want."

J. Q. sat on a high stool beside the barber chair. He managed to fight his way through the words. "My name is Mahaffey and —," Silently, he pulled out a reporter's note book.

"And you want to know what I'm going to do? And what I think about things? And a few quotes?" said Rogers. J. Q. nodded.

The cowboy talked and talked. J. Q. got his story, a great story. When he was finished, Rogers said "You know, old country boy, you don't have to be afraid. Because anybody who amounts to anything will know before you open your mouth that you stutter. And the others aren't worth talking to, anyway."

This is not quite the end of the story. J. Q. did not emerge overnight as the William Jennings Bryan of Texarkana. But what he did do, and to his own immense astonishment, was to accept a speaking engagement not long afterward.

"That was the worst week of my life," he said. "You see, a stammerer can look down a whole long sentence and see the word that's going to throw him. Sure enough, when he comes to it, it does throw him."

How did he overcome it? "By accepting every time somebody asked me to make a speech," he said. "Every time you make a talk, it throws that old trouble back just a little further."

After nearly 30 years, and thousands of public appearances, J. Q. no longer has to order the chicken salad sandwich.

FOUR YOUTHS TURN NAZIS TO OUST REGIME

CLEVELAND (AP)—The boy is 15, has an IQ in the genius range and when he goes into something he pours his soul into it.

When he took up piano, he practiced four hours a day. Then it was nothing but rockets. That lasted until one of his gang was injured while building a launcher.

This time he went in the wrong direction and too far.

He and his three companions planned to organize a Nazi-like party. The boy said in Juvenile Court Monday the plan was to overthrow the U.S. government.

What they actually did, the court was told, was to raid the bonds for Israel office in downtown Cleveland April 11, cutting up an Israeli flag and painting swastikas on the walls.

The Rev. Everett Ostrom, who appeared with the four in court, blamed a "special study class in politics" at Collinwood High School. The "fuehrer" of the group is a straight-A student at Collinwood and has an IQ of 148, the minister said.

The Rev. Mr. Ostrom, pastor of the First Covenant Church, said the boy showed no interest in political ideologies before taking the special course about two years ago. He said he felt the course failed to present democratic ideology adequately.

At Collinwood, Clarence Hudson, an assistant principal, retorted that the school's 3,200 pupils all take social or political study courses and the four "are the only ones who wound up thinking in Nazi terms."

The youths — three 15 and one 16 — were investigated after authorities learned they had distributed subversive literature at the school.

Judge Margaret J. Spellacy ordered psychiatric examination of the youth with the high IQ prior to passing sentence.

Judge Spellacy ordered the other three to write 10-page compositions on the best form of government and put them on 10 p.m. curfew.

Extra Police On Pike For Holiday

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Turnpike will be patrolled by extra state police details over the Memorial Day weekend when traffic is expected to hit peak proportions.

The Turnpike Commission said that the 168-man Turnpike detail and other state police will forego leaves and vacations to work extra shifts during the period.

Gov. Lawrence today endorsed the plan to step up patrols over the holiday weekend, adding:

"We hope all drivers — out of concern for their own safety as well as that of their loved ones — will obey the law."

"Those who do not can expect to be arrested."

HARRISBURG (AP)—An interstate compact between Pennsylvania and Delaware to set up a water supply and flood control system in the Brandywine Valley of southeastern Pennsylvania was proposed in the House Monday night.

Ask Publicity On Congress Payrolls

The request, in petitions filed with both houses of Congress last Friday, was announced Monday. ASNE President J. R. Wiggins, who also is vice president and executive editor of the Washington Post, signed the petitions.

At present, senators may make their office payrolls public if they wish, but they don't have to. The House releases payroll figures, but ASNE said some information on other expenses is withheld.

PA. OUTLOOK ON CROPS IS SEEN AS GOOD

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Crop Reporting Service sees good prospect for full production of cherries, peaches, strawberries, hay, tobacco and other field crops this season.

In its weekly crop and weather roundup Tuesday, the service said:

"Cereal grains are making excellent progress. Winter wheat was earlier reported as damaged by a severe winter, but the crop appears to have made excellent recovery."

Weather Favorable

"Weather during the week ending Monday was generally favorable for farmers in the southern part of Pennsylvania, although scattered local showers Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday slowed activity in northern counties. Soil moisture conditions ranged from short in some southern counties to surplus in the north."

"Cherries are sizing nicely, but the fruit set is spotty in some areas. Peach set is generally good and in some instances trees are fuller than normal and chemical thinning is under way. However, in some areas of the northwest, certain varieties of peaches set unevenly. Strawberries are of normal size for the date and harvest is expected to begin on schedule."

Planting Corn

"Tobacco plant setting also is expected to start on schedule. Setting of processing tomatoes continues and some tomatoes for fresh market (green wrap) are being set in the Luzerne County area."

"Corn planting is about two-thirds complete. Alfalfa hay cutting has started. Pastures are, for the most part, lush and making normal growth. Grass ensilage cutting is nearing a peak in southern counties."

FAVOR LAW CHANGE

HARRISBURG (AP)—A bill changing the publication requirements for auditor's reports on county accounts was approved Tuesday by the House Counties Committee.

The measure would require the reports to be published in at least two newspapers in the county involved. Under present law, no specific number of papers is mentioned.

Riding On Air

AP Automotive Writer Ben Phelgar sits in a "Levacar"—an air-propelled vehicle which slides on a fraction of an inch above a metal strip—as he talks with Dr. Andrew Kucher, center, and George Walker in Detroit. Kucher, vice president of engineering and research at the Ford Motor Co., pioneered the vehicle. He envisions the Levacar as a high speed transportation between cities. He said it would skim over flat rails at speeds of 200 to 300 miles an hour. (AP Wirephoto)

SCHOOL CODE CHANGES ARE BEING OFFERED

HARRISBURG (AP)—Public school code changes recommended by the Public Instruction Department have been proposed in a series of Senate bills.

Sen. Edward J. Kessler (R-Lancaster), who offered the legislation Tuesday, said most of the changes stemmed from hearings conducted on Gov. Lawrence's budget by the Senate appropriations subcommittee.

The bills would:

Give county school boards the power to nominate candidates for county school superintendent.

Other Proposals

Require the approval of the superintendent of public instruction for refunds exceeding the constitutional debt limitation.

Reduce the sum used to compute supplemental payments to joint school districts from $500 per teaching unit to $400 after July 1960.

Make it the duty of county press on the German question.

MEMORIAL DAY HIGHWAY TOLL MAY TAKE 260

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic accidents during the Memorial Day weekend may cause 260 deaths and 10,000 disabling injuries, the National Safety Council said Tuesday.

The council estimated more than 40 million automobiles will be on the streets and roads.

The holiday period covered by the calculations will begin at 6 p.m. (local time) Friday, May 29, and will end at midnight Sunday, May 31.

Record Is 241

If the toll reaches 260, it will be a new record by a wide margin for a two-day observance of the Memorial Day holiday. The record is 241, set in 1953.

During last year's three-day observance 371 motor vehicle fatalities were reported.

But the council said the count can be held down if motorists use a "sure-fire formula for minimizing holiday traffic trouble."

Three-fold Formula

1. Hold your speed to 60 or below on the open road and obey posted speed limits.
2. Put the time of your arrival at your destination last in importance, and your safe arrival first.
3. Stay away from the wheel if you've been drinking.

Get Money For Bonus Machinery

HARRISBURG (AP)—A bill appropriating $20,000 to the Military Affairs Department for administrative details connected with paying a bonus to Pennsylvania'sorean War veterans has been signed into law by Gov. Lawrence.

The department will use the money to hire personnel to administer bonus payments. The governor's signature Tuesday completed action on all bonus legislation.

Lawrence also signed a bill

Co-ed Recovering From Caustic Burns

DENTON, Tex. (AP)—A 20-year-old co-ed who was threatened with blindness and disfigurement when silver nitrate was thrown into her face May 20 has regained normal vision in her left eye, her doctor says.

But the physician said Sheila Rene Nelms still sees only a little light with her right eye.

The doctor said scars on the girl's face and body are clearing up and there apparently will be no permanent disfigurement.

Tommy Ray Lester, 19, a fellow North Texas State College student who admitted throwing the caustic on the girl, is free on bond on charges of aggravated assault. Lester claimed the incident was a practical joke which backfired.

GIVE NUDGE TO FOREIGN AID

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's foreign aid program had a strong nudge today in the direction of economic rather than military assistance.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee provided the change of emphasis as it approved late Tuesday a foreign aid authorization bill cut $266,800,000 below President Eisenhower's request for $3,930,000,000.

The measure, subject to both House and Senate action, raised by 100 million dollars Eisenhower's proposed 700-million-dollar allocation for loans to help develop backward countries.

It was understood the committee also agreed to emphasize in its report that the military reductions are to be made primarily in arms aid to Latin American and other countries not considered to be the potential firing line—as are the NATO countries, South Korea and Nationalist China.

amending a 1929 act to have the various state agencies reimburse the Auditor General's Department for audits of their accounts. The new law becomes effective on Monday, the first day of the new biennium.

HERTER CALLS FOR PACT ON BERLIN ISSUE

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

GENEVA (AP)—With secret Big Four talks on Germany scheduled to start Friday, U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter urged Russia Tuesday to negotiate a Berlin settlement which would unite that divided city under its own constitution pending German unification.

A spokesman for Communist East Germany's delegation declared at once that discussions of German questions by the Big Four could only be held when East and West German representatives were present.

Brief Meeting Tuesday

"Official talks of the four foreign ministers on German questions without German representatives would not bring any success," the spokesman said.

"It would not be possible for the four to make formal decisions on German questions without the Germans being present."

The West German delegation made no immediate comment on the announcement. But Western German officials have said they favor any type of Big Four negotiations that might lead to progress.

FBI REPORT ON PARKER CASE IS HELD FOR JURY

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The governor of Mississippi, the judge who would have presided at the rape trial of Mack Charles Parker, and the district attorney were at odds today over what to do with the FBI's report on the lynching of the 23-year-old Negro.

Gov. J. P. Coleman received what he described as a comprehensive report from the FBI Monday after the Department of Justice bowed out of the scene with an announcement it had found no evidence of a federal law violation.

About 40 FBI agents had been concentrated in the area around Poplarville in southwestern Mississippi ever since a band of masked and hooded men seized Parker on April 25, two days before he was scheduled to go on trial on charges of raping a 24-year-old pregnant white mother. His body was found in the Pearl River May 4.

Goos To Grand Jury

"The proper procedure," Coleman said, "is that I shall make this information available to the next regular session of the Pearl River County grand jury in November. The law requires the grand jury to keep secret all testimony offered before it. Therefore, pending grand jury action, I shall not reveal any part of the contents of the FBI report."

Circuit Judge Sebe Dale of Columbia promptly announced that Coleman was hamstringing the court by holding the FBI report.

"He has no right to hold it," Dale said. "That report belongs to the district attorney and the county attorney because they have to present it to court."

Dist. Atty. Vernon Broom said at Poplarville he didn't know why Coleman was holding the report but added he wouldn't try to get it.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The police are holding two U.S. citizens and a Venezuelan on suspicion that they brought rented cars from the United States to sell in Mexico without paying import duties.

The North Americans are listed as Leigh Matheson Quillen of Fort Myers, Fla., and Miss Bruce Owens of Miami.

U.S. police requested Mexican help after car rental agencies in Las Vegas, Los Angeles and Miami reported cars had been stolen.

TOKYO (AP) — Moscow and Peking came 700 miles closer by train June 1. On that date, a Peking broadcast said, the first through train will use the new short cut via Ulan Bator, capital of Mongolia. The trip will take 9½ hours less than the present route via Manchouli, in northeast China, the report said.

ORRTANNA — A program of the Christian Home League was presented at the worship service Sunday morning at the Mt. Carmel EUB Church. Preceding the program, there was scripture and prayer following the call to worship by the pastor, Rev. Alfred Gotwalt. The prayer hymn, "Breathe On Me, Breath of Life," announcements and offering then followed. The Christian Home League was explained by James Bly, Richard Sell and Emory Sell. Richard Sell told of the beginning of the league. It was begun in France by Col. Bryant, a chaplain in the Army, who felt the need of such worship in the homes. Col. Bryant talked to Fred Bruner of Philadelphia, an artist, and had him paint the picture of "Family Worship." Mr. Sell presented a picture of family worship. It was dedicated with prayer by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Gotwalt. Both James Bly and Richard Sell gave testimony to God.

Emory Sell spoke of the commandment "Honor Thy Father and Thy Mother" in relation to the Christian Home League. Mr. Sell spoke of the rising tide of the crimes of youth and said more parents should have family worship.

Covenants were presented by Emory Sell and closing prayer by the pastor, Rev. Gotwalt.

Mr. and Mrs. James Donaldson and Miss Carrie Kittinger had with them on Sunday Mrs. Mattie Eichman, Mr. and Mrs. John Kittinger and son, John, Mrs. Cecilia Pleyer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kittinger and daughter, Brenda, Mrs. Jay Bushong, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Tshudy and sons, Lester Jr. and Amos, all of Lancaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wetzel and daughter, Carol, and Mrs. J. E. Spence were in Millerville on Monday where they attended commencement exercises at the STC.

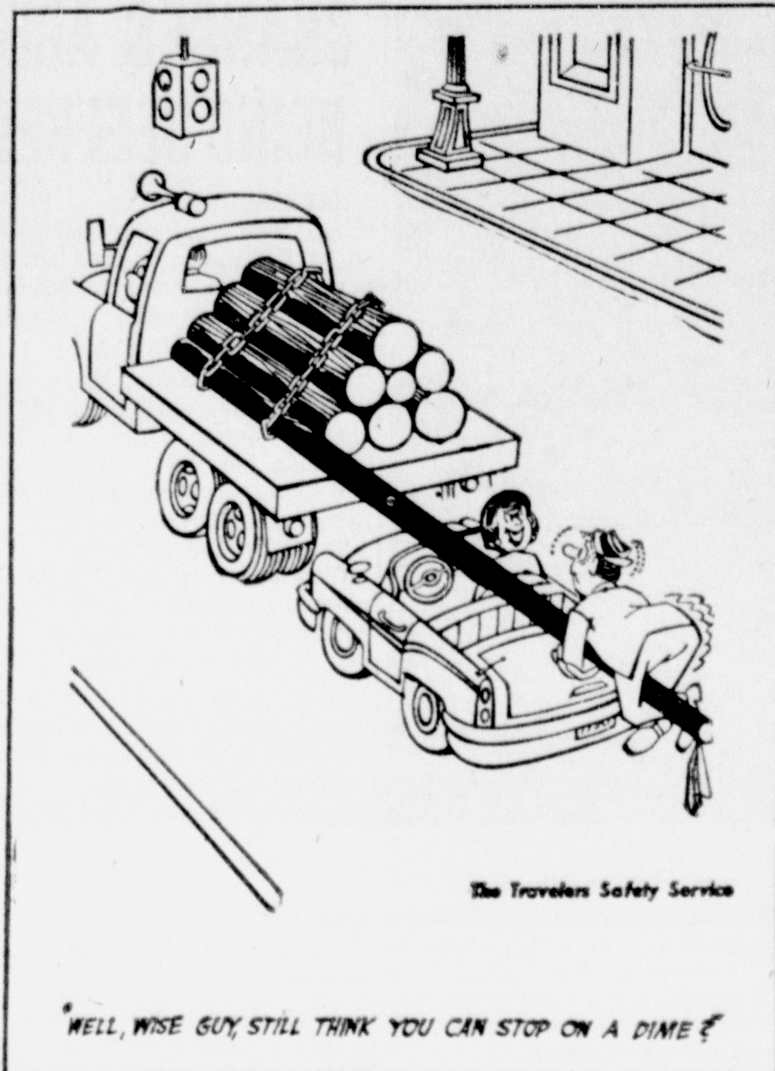

The Wetzels' daughter, Miss Marie C. Wetzel, was a member of the graduating class. Mr. and Mrs. Wetzel also attended the baccalaureate services at the college on Sunday evening. The Wetzels were accompanied from York by Mrs. Wetzel's sister, Mrs. George Neely, with whom they visited during the day.

OAXACA, Mexico (AP) — A government relief program was launched Tuesday for southern Mexican sufferers from Sunday's earthquake. Delayed reports brought out that damage was much heavier than was first reported.

At Nochtistlan, along the international highway, virtually the whole population of 2,562 was uprooted. Almost all houses were so badly damaged they had to be abandoned.

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer left for Washington by air Tuesday to attend the funeral of the former U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Wednesday. Adenauer told a meeting of his Christian Democratic Party that he was going to Washington "both as a personal friend of Dulles and as head of the government."

STATE LOANS TO STUDENTS ARE FAVORED

HARRISBURG (AP) — A proposed constitutional amendment allowing the state to lend money for college scholarships has been approved by the House Education Committee.

The authorization would apply only to Pennsylvania residents. Persons enrolled in seminaries or theological schools would be ineligible. The committee cleared the measure for floor action Tuesday.

Meantime, the Senate received its third version of legislation to create a higher education assistance authority to help students finish college studies.

The latest measure, creating the authority to lend money to students or their parents, was introduced Tuesday by Sens. Martin Silvert (D-Phila.) and Thomas A. Ehrsgood (R-Lebanon).

Silvert said he and Ehrsgood offered a similar proposal earlier but revised it after receiving suggestions from the Public Instruction Department. Sen. James S.

Berger, Republican floor leader, introduced similar legislation on Monday.

The main difference in the measures introduced by Berger and by Silvert and Ehrsgood is the amount of money that could be loaned. Berger's proposal would allow loans of $500 a year after the freshman year to a maximum of $1,500. The bill by Silvert and Ehrsgood would double the amounts.

SAY LYNCHING CASE IS SOLVED

CHICAGO (AP) — The Tribune said today the Federal Bureau of Investigation has solved the Mack Charles Parker lynching and has turned the names of the asserted killers over to Gov. James R. Coleman of Mississippi.

The Tribune, in a copyright dispatch from Washington, said it learned from "informed sources on Capitol Hill" that approximately 10 men were involved. All are reported to be from communities and the rural area surrounding Poplarville, Miss. The story did not identify the men.

The FBI declined comment on the Tribune's story. The Department of Justice announced at Washington Monday it had with-

Favor Collective Bargaining Rights

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Nurses Assn. favors legislation before the General Assembly to give collective bargaining rights to hospital employees.

Mary E. Howard, the association's acting executive secretary, said Tuesday that the legislation would guard against strikes or walkouts involving hospital personnel.

She warned that Pennsylvania risks the possibility of hospital strikes of non-professional employees by not passing such legislation. She said nurses are pledged not to strike, but added:

"Hospital employees have long needed legal assurance of their right to present their employment problems to their employer, to select representatives and to have those representatives bargain collectively. Hospital employees are still denied this basic right."

TELLS BANKERS TO MEET IN PENNA. NEXT

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania used the Chamber of Commerce routine before the Pennsylvania Bankers Assn. today.

Why should an association of Pennsylvanians, he asked, be meeting in Atlantic City when Pennsylvania is at its springtime best.

"Up in the Northern Tier, we'll soon see the laurel blossoms," he said. "In the Poconos you'll find a pleasant coolness in the daytime and evening, and on our farms, the fruit trees and green fields are a beautiful sight from any window."

He said tourism in Pennsylvania is a multimillion-dollar business. The Keystone State attracts as many as 30 million tourists a year. He pointedly added:

"If each of these people spend only one dollar, it means that Pennsylvania benefits by 30 million dollars. And gentlemen, to a banker, and to your governor, 30 million dollars is a lot of money."

He called on the bankers to hold their next convention in Pennsylvania.

drawn from the case because no evidence had been found of a federal law violation.

Parker, 23, a Negro truck driver, was kidnapped from the jail the night of April 25, two days before he was scheduled to go on trial on charges of raping a 24-year-old pregnant white mother. His body was found in a river 20 miles from Poplarville on May 4.

THIEVES LOOT ARMORED CAR OF $165,540

DENVER (AP) — A $5,000 reward offer spurred officers searching today for two swift thieves who looted an unattended armored car of $165,540 Tuesday.

The theft took less than a minute. One man—described by the lone woman witness as about 45 and short and fat—opened the locked car with a key. He pitched four sacks of currency into a stolen car driven by an accomplice.

They sped away before Maude Moore, the only witness, could get a good description. The car was found abandoned in a shopping center a few blocks away.

The Armored Motors Service car was raided in a parking lot outside the Jefferson County Bank in suburban Lakewood. The reward for recovery of the money, covered by insurance, was posted by Armored Motors Service.

Officers said they were convinced the thieves used a key because of the speed of the raid and the recovery of a broken key chain at the scene.

Sterilization Is Revived In Idaho

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Idaho is reviving a program which permits the state to sterilize certain mental patients.

State law permits a sterilization operation to be performed with consent of the patient or without his consent if officials obtain a court order.

Dr. Terrell O. Carver, state health administrator, said the state's mental institutions would submit names of candidates for the operation to the State Board of Health, which would hold hearings and review each case.

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — King Leopold, the former ruler of Belgium, and his wife, Princess Lilianne, are moving out of the palace of King Baudouin, the government announced Tuesday.

Until now Leopold and his wife have been living with Baudouin at the chateau of Laeken on the outskirts of Brussels. Now it will be occupied by Baudouin alone.

There has been criticism for several weeks of the influence which Leopold is alleged to wield in the country's affairs.

TO PUSH FOR SHOWDOWN ON NEW TAX BILLS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Rep. Stephen McCann, House Democratic leader, said today he may push for a showdown vote within the next few weeks on the remainder of the Lawrence administration's tax legislation.

McCann said he would bring up the stalled nine bills in groups of a few at a time until their fate is determined one way or another or until enough new revenue is put on the books to match mandated increased spending in the 1959-61 biennium.

He said the push will start next Tuesday or Wednesday. Originally it had been scheduled for today. But the House called off its business for the rest of the week after the sudden death Monday night of Rep. Allen M. Gibson (R-Warren), assistant Republican floor leader.

McCann said the beer and liquor sales tax bill and two or three other measures to be selected at a Democratic caucus on Monday will be put to the test first.

Under consideration are the two bills raising the bank shares tax to four mills, revival of the soft drink tax and the extension of the gross receipts tax on utilities to include gas companies.

McCann reiterated he will need Republican votes to make up the 106 majority needed to pass a bill. Rep. Albert W. Johnson, GOP floor leader, said his members would maintain their solid position at a caucus next Monday against voting any new taxation.

If the tax proposals fail of passage next week, McCann said, then he would call up the remaining items at a later date. That might be the following week, he said.

These bills would include whatever bills out of the first group of five are not called to a showdown next week plus the intangible personal property, tobacco, trade-ins and underground gas storage taxes.

McCann said he would make his appeal for support of the tax programs on the grounds the state still needs an additional 85 million dollars in taxes to make up mandated expenditures in the new biennium starting June 1. The nine tax bills add up to a total of some $10 million dollars in revenue.

Republicans have said they don't want to vote any new taxes until the appropriations committee completes its study of Gov. Lawrence's $1,885,000,000 budget. Taxes already on the books would raise more than 1 billion dollars, according to estimates.

5 CONVICTED ON KICKBACKS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Five former officials of the Old Freeport Bank were convicted in U. S. District Court Tuesday night on charges of conspiring to take cash kickbacks from persons who borrowed money from the bank.

A jury of four women and eight men deliberated about nine hours before returning the verdicts against Charles L. Sober, former president of the Armstrong County bank; his son, Ira, former executive vice president; Jack Reese, former cashier; and Dr. Richard W. Heineman and John Cypher, former directors.

All the defendants were present when the verdicts were returned. Judge John L. Miller said he would set a date for sentencing later. There was no immediate indication whether the defense would file an appeal.

The defendants were convicted on 13 counts of the indictment, which charged conspiracy and false entry in connection with the alleged kickbacks.

The jury acquitted Dr. Heineman on two embezzlement charges; Ira Sober on one embezzlement charge; and Dr. Heineman and Charles Sober on one kickback charge.

STATELIONS HOLD ELECTION

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Claude E. Bradley of South Connellsville is the new chairman of the Pennsylvania State Council of Lions Clubs, succeeding James McElfrack of Phoenixville.

Bradley was elected Tuesday at the concluding session of the group's four-day convention.

The new vice chairman is Benad Murray of Erie. He also was elected district governor of the Erie-Meadville area. Other district governors named:

MANY TOURISTS CROWD BERLIN; SEE NO FUSS

By REINHOLD ENSZ

BERLIN (AP)—The day the Soviets once set for the Western Allies to get out of West Berlin dawned today with no trouble likely.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev has postponed the deadline indefinitely. The Soviet Embassy in East Berlin assured the West that the Kremlin wouldn't renege.

The U.S. Army said it planned no special alert for American troops in West Berlin.

But all the talk of May 27 apparently acted as a magnet for tourists. West Berlin was thronged with a record number of foreign visitors.

"I must disappoint those who expect to get bravery medals," said Mayor Willy Brandt smilingly. "May 27 will be like any other day."

Rejected Red Order

Six months ago today—on Nov. 27—the Soviet Premier called for an end to the World War II occupation of Berlin and withdrawal of the Allied military garrisons from West Berlin. He said that in six months the Soviets would give East Germany's Communist regime control over Allied military traffic between West Germany and the Communist-surrounded Western half of the city. The East Germans have controlled civilian traffic to and from Berlin since 1955.

The Western Allies, who refuse to recognize or deal with the East German government, rejected Khrushchev's demand. There was talk of an armed convoy or a new airlift to challenge any transfer of traffic control to the East Germans. Fear of war was widespread.

The fears subsided when the West and the Soviets agreed to negotiate. Khrushchev said he wouldn't try to alter Berlin's status while negotiations were in progress.

FEAR VETOES ON HOUSING, AIRPORT BILLS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional Democratic leaders reportedly are urging reluctant colleagues to pare down housing and airport spending bills. They want to avoid presidential vetoes.

Wrapped up in these two measures is the core of the political controversy between the majority of Democrats and President Eisenhower—budget balancing.

The two bills now are before Senate-House conference committees.

Budget Is Issue

Democrats from the big cities particularly want Congress to enact large-scale housing and airport programs to which they can point in their 1960 re-election races. If Eisenhower vetoes these bills and his action is sustained, these Democrats think Republican candidates will suffer.

On the other hand, Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) and Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas were reported arguing that the Republicans thus far have developed budget balancing as the only major issue for 1960.

As reported by some of their colleagues, their argument is that if the Democrats trim the bills to minimum amounts they may be able to blunt this issue by getting presidential approval for the expenditures involved.

Name Lawyer To Administer Estate

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Roger B. Reynolds, a lawyer, has been appointed administrator of the estate of Max Kravitz, wealthy realtor killed by his wife last July 4 in their Wynnewood home.

Reynolds, of Norristown, was appointed Tuesday by Mrs. Mayme Rothenberger, Montgomery County register of wills. Kravitz' wife, Ethel, petitioned for a temporary administrator until the county court rules on her motion for a new trial and an arrest of judgement. Kravitz family opposed the petition.

Mrs. Kravitz was found guilty last December of second degree murder in the shooting and beating of her husband. She estimates his estate at more than $500,000.

Would Revive Censorship Code

HARRISBURG (AP)—The House State Government Committee's approval has been given to legislation reviving Pennsylvania's movie censorship code.

The committee sent the measure to the floor for action Tuesday. The State Supreme Court nullified the state's old censorship code on the ground it was too vague.

Under the proposed new code, obscenity would be defined as "that which appeals to prurient (lewd) interest compared to contemporary community standards" and inciting to crime would be defined as "portraying crime as conduct acceptable or worthy of

Gladfelter New Temple President

NEWTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Dr. Mildred E. Gladfelter has been unanimously elected president of Temple University.

The election of the university's emulation or contempt for law."

The legislation would empower the State Board of Motion Picture Control to ban the showing of such movies to children under 19 years of age.

59-year-old vice president and provost was announced Tuesday night by Methodist Bishop Fred Pierce Corson after a dinner meeting of the university's board of trustees. Bishop Corson is chairman of the board.

Dr. Gladfelter, a native of York County, will succeed Dr. Robert L. Johnson on July 1. Johnson has been named chancellor of the university, a newly-created post.

Dr. Gladfelter is a Gettysburg College alumnus in the Class of 1925.

PAAR HOPES TO CUT SCHEDULE TO 3 A WEEK

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Paar understandably wants to do three midnight shows a week instead of five. NBC-TV understandably wants him to do five.

It may be settled any day now, with Eddie Albert and his wife Margo doing two a week from Hollywood and Paar three a week from New York. Then again, it may be settled quite differently. In any event, Paar is what is known as an "invaluable property." During the past year he has become one of the most popular and unquestionably the most talked-about entertainers on television.

Doesn't Like Late Work

He probably has done more to rearrange the sleeping habits of more Americans than anything that has happened since pajamas superseded the old-fashioned night shirt.

This is no satisfaction to Paar because he has had to rearrange his own sleeping habits. He used to be an early-to-bed and early-to-rise man — and still would like to be. The chief reason why he has been taping some of his shows is that he hates to stay awake after midnight.

Furthermore, he can't sleep soundly anywhere except in his own suburban Westchester abode.

There isn't much point in a reporter interviewing Paar because five nights a week he interviews himself before several million people, candidly expressing what's on his mind.

Keeps 'Em Breathless

I think the reason so many people stay up late watching the Paar show is that he keeps them breathlessly waiting to learn what he's going to say or do next — a characteristic he also likes in his guests.

He doesn't hesitate to show irritation or boredom or almost any other emotion on camera, and is not afraid of being outspokenly frank.

Paar takes his television job the way most people want to take their own daily jobs — and are afraid to — even to the extent of maneuvering for shorter working hours.

Val Heckman, University of Florida tackle last season, is being counted on to play guard as a pro this fall with the San Francisco 49ers. He is 235 pounds.
